New Membership Portal

In November we introduced the option to book your time in the studio online. This option is available on the website:

<https://www.claystudiocollective.com/> with the "Book Online" button on the toolbar. Now you can also become a Member of the site. This will allow you to book your sessions, update them and cancel them!

Use the "My Bookings" to edit, cancel and reschedule your bookings. If you need help signing up as a member - just drop us an email!

Housekeeping Items

Sand is available in the entranceway. Please spread it on the walkway if you notice it is slippery.

Tools are now colour coded. Yellow for KCP students and green for members!

Reminder that your bags of clay must be stored in your cubbies, or taken with you. Please don't leave your clay on the wareboards!

Classes by Krista

Krista Cameron will be in the studio! Classes start on January 10th. We are very excited to bring more energy, creativity, and activity to the studio this winter. Please remember that members cannot be in the studio during class time. These times have been blocked in the "Bookings Calendar" on our website.

New this term, my students have a choice to work with whatever clay-body they want. Which means some pretty exciting glaze outcomes are in store this term!

What's your preference?

- Red
- White
- Speckled

(Pssstt... We still have 1 spot available for the Thursday 6:30pm class!)

Clean it like you Mean It!

This is YOUR studio. And mine. It is something that we are all proud of being a part of. Let's show it. Clean up all of your areas before you leave. Your wheel. Your trimmings. Counters. Sinks. Surfaces. The Board will be creating checklists to help you remember the areas to clean and how to clean. If we all work together, our studio will be a source of pride!

You asked and we delivered!

Speckled clay is now available! Get it while it's still there!

We also have new glazes coming soon!
